Maurodos San Roman 2013 [6/cs] $52.95

"The 2013 San Román was produced with fruit from older vineyards in Toro. There is something leafy and floral showing elegance within the power that the place provides naturally. There are some fine tannins and the profile of a more austere and transparent vintage, a mineral year. But it does have the smokey and slightly wild character of Toro."

93 points, Wine Advocate, Feb 2017

Duckhorn "Three Palms" Merlot 2013 $101.95 [6/cs]

"Launching forth with a beautiful, elegant bouquet of red berries and cedar spice, the new Three Palms is a classic in the making. Simultaneously rich and elegant, it offers complex layers of blueberry, baking spice, and mocha. Given the embedded structure in this wine, it will age gracefully for years to come and evolve into an even more extraordinary wine. Enjoy over the next 10 years. 2016-2026"

"Sexy mineral-tinged aromas of ripe pear, nectarine, orange and buttered toast, with a hint of smokiness in the background; seems like there's some oak here but there's none. Smooth and fleshy on entry, then tighter in the middle, offering intense citrus and orchard fruit flavours underscored by a gingery nuance. Closes sappy and long, with building floral character and firm mineral bite."

"John Williams is on a roll, following his exceptional 2013 Zinfandel with an equally delicious 2014. He dry-farms his 40 year old vines, harvesting them at the same time as his Petite Sirah, so he can co-ferment the fruit. That brings the tannins together in a refreshing, gentle structure that lifts the fruit flavours, presenting them as perfectly ripe forest berries. The tannins feel plush, even as they carry a note of black-pepper corn spice and manzanita. This is a beautiful Napa Valley red that happens to speak with an accent of Zin."

"Portfolio is a full-on, five-grape, Bordeaux-style blend—half Merlot. Dark, dense and textural, it's loaded with blackberry and black cherry fruit, swathed in baking spices, cinnamon and mocha. The tannins are beautifully managed, and it should drink magnificently through the mid-2020s."
